Intro to Internet Computing

   This assignment was not too difficult, in large part since it's built so heavily off of the first assignment. I actually had fun tweaking the various settings to see what would happen. Most of the time it looked horrendous, but after much trial and error I was able to come up with a look that I liked, which ended up taking a surprisingly small number of changes. Or perhaps not so surprising, I did choose my template because I really liked the way it looked by default.

I used the Grayscale template and tested the site in Google Chrome and Microsoft Edge. I used Brackets as my editor.
